Introductions and Refreshments

Presentations – learn new tools to bring your sessions alive!

1. Kahoot! Game–based learning in Library Instruction by Lisa Burgert, University of San Diego
   Lisa first learned about Kahoot while attending the Lilly Conference in Austin, TX.

   Lilly Conference Series on College and University Teaching and Learning
   If you are looking for a new conference to attend Lisa highly recommends this series! Recently there was a conference in Newport, CA.

   Kahoot!
   https://getkahoot.com/

   We participated in a game Lisa created for her IL course for student athletes at USD. It was a syllabus quiz, but extremely fun and engaging! Participants win points based on correct responses and speed. It’s almost like a game show with music, a timer, individual feedback, and your own personal ranking. Lisa’s student athletes love the built in competition! Kahoot can also be used in one-shots and large orientations.

2. (Form)ative Assessment: Using Google Forms to Evaluate Active Learning by Katherine Donaldson & Elisa Acosta, Loyola Marymount University
Katherine Donaldson is the Librarian-in-Residence at LMU which is a two-year position. During her rotation through the Reference & Instruction Department she started working on an IL assessment project. Elisa introduced the active learning exercise used in all 71 Rhetorical Arts classes, while Katherine shared the grading rubric she developed based upon the new ACRL IL Framework. Katherine also shared her experiences norming the rubric and the next steps.

Business Meeting

1. Unanimous approval of the meeting minutes from February 6, 2015. (Conference Call)

2. LILi Website – update from A. Boyd
   a. hosting – bluehost, godaddy, LibGuides are all options. LILi doesn’t have any money, so the platform must be free. Many libraries are waiting until summer to migrate to the new version of LibGuides. LILi will wait until summer to make a decision.

3. 2015 LILi Annual Conference Planning Committee – update from E. Acosta and general discussion among group

   Site: Loyola Marymount University
   Date: Monday, August 3rd, 9am-1:30pm
   Speaker: Kathy Gould, Director of the Palos Verdes Library District
   Theme: Collaborations, Information Literacy & Lifelong Learning

   a. Call For Proposals has been posted on the LILi website: https://sites.google.com/site/lifelonginformationliteracy/annual-conference-1
      No submissions as of today. We might want to post again after ACRL Conference. Possible listservs: LILi, calbaca, calix, csla, etc.

   b. Money - The conference will be free again this year. Next year we will need a registrar and a system of payment. Next year we should charge a small registration fee to cover the cost of breakfast, lunch or snacks.

   c. Food – It’s unlikely that there will be food at the conference this year. Last year Jeanne donated her personal budget to order food. LILi asked for donations to recover the cost. Elisa will ask LMU catering (Sodexho) how much bagels and coffee is going to cost.

   d. Parking - $10

   e. Peer-reviewers - We should email the LILi Advisory Board and ask if they would like to review the conference proposals. C. Orozco has already volunteered.

   f. Panelists- We will need two librarians (academic, school) to respond to Kathy Gould’s speech. We should email the LILi Advisory Board to ask for suggestions.

   g. Next Conference Planning Meeting - E.Acosta will send out a Doodle Poll in April regarding dates for a phone conference.

   h. 2016 Conference – a new planning committee should be formed a year in advance. As early as summer 2015?

4. LILi Elections – Discussion
   Elections should take place in May-June and then the new officers start in August-September.
5. LILi Facebook – L. Burgert
   https://www.facebook.com/pages/Lifelong-Information-Literacy-LILi/140576501988?sk=wall&filter=2

   L. Burgert has continued to post interesting content to the LILi facebook page and has noticed an increase in activity (likes, comments, etc.). We need more LILi members to add content!

6. Next LILi Meeting
   10:00-11:00am phone conference on Friday, June 19th

   Tour of the new library at Pierce College – Esther Grassian

   Lunch at Weiler's Deli
